

Scott Bakal

Scott Bakal specializes in tax and estate planning, as a shareholder with the Miami office of Greenberg Traurig. Scott regularly represents Israeli and Latin American citizens in their investments in the US and also represents US clients who have family members living in Israel and Latin America. Scott graduated from Yale College with a BS in mathematics and from Harvard Law School. In 2022, Scott moved to Fort Lauderdale with his wife Beth Solomon, after having spent the prior 36 years in Chicago. Scott and Beth have three adult children.

Scott's principal involvement with the Chicago Jewish federation was through the Partnership2Gether program. In addition, Scott has served as a board member of two Chicago area JCC's, as legal advisor to the Chicago Festival of Israeli Cinema, and as a board member and officer of other Chicago based charitable organizations.
