

Engaging in Jewish Living and Learning

Connecting to Jewish life

A vibrant Jewish community is built by its people. Individuals who seek meaningful connections to Jewish life, community, and each other. The Federation's Department of Jewish Education and Engagement supports and develops quality lifelong Jewish learning and identity-building in Broward County, inspiring meaningful connections with our Jewish heritage and community, strengthening our commitment to Israel, and building future Jewish leadership.

"At Temple Beth Emet, our families and students benefit from Jewish Federation's generosity. From scholarships given to our day school students, to PJ Library® engaging families with young children, to helping fund children to participate in Israel and Jewish summer camp experiences, to supporting professional development for all our staff. On behalf of everyone at Temple Beth Emet we would like to express our deep appreciation to the Jewish Federation of Broward County."

Dear Jewish Federation of Broward County Donors,

I want to thank you for your generosity in providing me with the Israel Experience Scholarship for High School Students.

I am constantly reflecting on my experiences, thinking about what I learned, reaching out to my new friends, and discovering what it means to be Jewish. The Tiyulim (day trips) really brought my learning to life. Seeing these sites first-hand made my learning experience meaningful and memorable.

Again, thank you so much! It is because of the Jewish Federation of Broward County that I was able to follow in my parents' footsteps and attend Alexander Muss High School in Israel has a special place in my heart and I cannot wait for when I am able to return.

With gratitude,
Rebecca S.
